

Monte Hiniesta 2009

91 Points

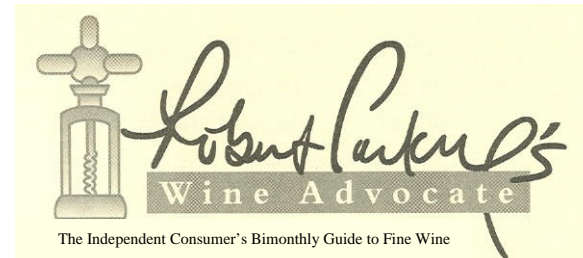

Monte Hiniesta 2009 has a purple/black color from a great vintage in Toro. It was aged for 9 to 10 months in first and second year American oak. Brooding black fruits, cigar box, Asian spices, and an earthy minerality inform the nose of this smooth, layered bruiser. A bit more complexity will come with another year or two in the bottle.

Monte Hiniesta 2009

91 Points

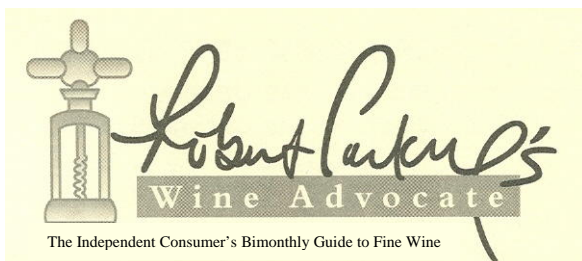

Monte Hiniesta 2009 has a purple/black color from a great vintage in Toro. It was aged for 9 to 10 months in first and second year American oak. Brooding black fruits, cigar box, Asian spices, and an earthy minerality inform the nose of this smooth, layered bruiser. A bit more complexity will come with another year or two in the bottle.

Monte Hiniesta 2009

91 Points

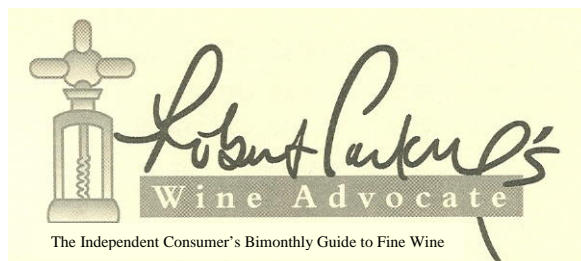

Monte Hiniesta 2009 has a purple/black color from a great vintage in Toro. It was aged for 9 to 10 months in first and second year American oak. Brooding black fruits, cigar box, Asian spices, and an earthy minerality inform the nose of this smooth, layered bruiser. A bit more complexity will come with another year or two in the bottle.

Monte Hiniesta 2009

91 Points

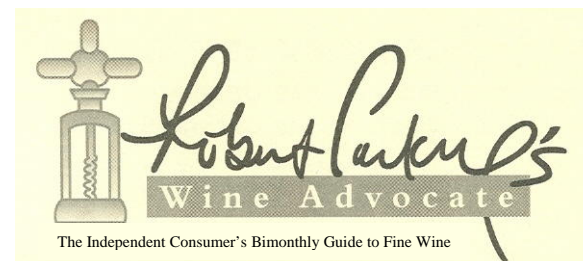

Monte Hiniesta 2009 has a purple/black color from a great vintage in Toro. It was aged for 9 to 10 months in first and second year American oak. Brooding black fruits, cigar box, Asian spices, and an earthy minerality inform the nose of this smooth, layered bruiser. A bit more complexity will come with another year or two in the bottle.

Monte Hiniesta 2009

91 Points

Monte Hiniesta 2009 has a purple/black color from a great vintage in Toro. It was aged for 9 to 10 months in first and second year American oak. Brooding black fruits, cigar box, Asian spices, and an earthy minerality inform the nose of this smooth, layered bruiser. A bit more complexity will come with another year or two in the bottle.

Monte Hiniesta 2009

91 Points

Monte Hiniesta 2009 has a purple/black color from a great vintage in Toro. It was aged for 9 to 10 months in first and second year American oak. Brooding black fruits, cigar box, Asian spices, and an earthy minerality inform the nose of this smooth, layered bruiser. A bit more complexity will come with another year or two in the bottle.